Hello my name is Leithan, I am a small town southern girl born and raised in Virginia. I came to California in 2013 and fell in love. I started modeling about a year and half ago and it's something I truly enjoy!

I never considered the fact that I would be a part of a published magazine. Soon after I started working with photographers and getting the exposure, I was getting contacted about three to four times a week to shoot. I started getting more and more into the modeling and taking time to look up new poses and often practicing in the mirror. I feel that modeling is an excellent way to express your self in a silent way. Being a small town girl I am so thankful for all the support from my family, friends, and my husband. During the day for the last 10 months I have been in school to become a medical assistant, I am happy to say that I am finishing up at the end of the month and then will be starting back to college for my bachelors of science. Other than modeling and school I love to spend time in the outdoors doing things such as horseback ridding, snowboarding, and spending time with my two pups and my husband! I would like to give all photo credits to Michael Keller and say thank you for taking the time to work with me and having determination at each shoot!

My name is Cassie and I am not your ordinary small town girl. Yes I am from a town with less than three hundred and was raised on a cattle farm. I love like a woman, fight like a boy and have the sexual skills of the Greek goddess herself. I pride myself in my votes however can walk any show or shoot in heels just the same. I am a Libra so yes I am pretty much the shit in all aspects. I live life with a passion and the adrenaline rush too! My rush is from either horseback or the freedom of being on two wheels! I am also the owner of a local group in Arkansas called the Arkansas Ladies Of Hope Association in which we do events to help children with the medical funds their family is not able to come up with as well as awareness to those illnesses too.

I've been in photography since 1989 when I got my first Pentax K1000 film camera, limited to how ever much film I could afford. Today I use a brand new 2015 Nikon D7200 with 128gb, times have changed. Along the way I've taken courses back in the 90's on Studio Photography and Portrait Photography. Currently I find the online world of YouTube an amazing source of information. More recently I've rekindled my love of photography. I've learned the basics of PhotoShop and Lightroom through trial and errors. The 2015 year was my most active, I lost my day job in June, and instead of being all depressed about it, I took the opportunity to really work on my photography. Over the last 6 months I photographed almost 60 models; Including weddings and family pictures as well. I have some great locations that I use for my sessions, my buddies classic car collection, another friend that has a mansion, the family farm, or we just go for a drive and find a cool random spot. My greatest accomplishment are still to come. Learning and evolving my skills as a photographer and as a professional are most important to me. Proper ethics and conduct on and off the set are also areas of importance. Making the people in front of the camera as comfortable as possible creates those magic moments.

I was born in México, and lived in Philadelphia for the past two years, where I studied business administration. I have always modeled while I worked doing something else. I now own my fitness company, but I will model as much as I can.. It is my biggest passion. I have over 15 years modeling in Glamour, high fashion, Catalogues, Runways.

My ambitions is to create fitness centers all over Mexico and keep modeling and traveling.

Turn Ons: A brilliant Mind, Tall Guy.

Turn Offs: Bad Grammar, Ugly toes.

Must Have: Nails Done always, Kisses and food around.

JASMIN KENDRICK

My name is Jasmin, I'm from southern California, Currently studying massage therapy at MiraCosta college, but I recently decided to break into a possible modeling career. I recently took an interest in modeling in March and began building my portfolio. I am currently networking with photographers and building up a professional and diverse portfolio. I want to get my face out there and connect with agencies and photographers that could help me get one step closer to achieving my goals of becoming a professional model in many different aspects of the modeling field (lifestyle, fashion, glamour, swimwear, ect).

Madison Stewart

My name is Madison Stewart, I am an underwater film maker, 22 years old, sharks are my specialty. I've been diving with sharks since I was 12 years old, I actually left school at age 14 to home school and devote my time to sharks. I grew up with my dad who put emphasis on the natural world and basically raised me in the oceans. I have never been scared of sharks, I was in the water with them from a young age and taught myself everything about them so I would know what I was dealing with, now, they are like family to me.

It was at this age I noticed a rather dramatic and to me heart breaking decline of sharks in our waters (the Great Barrier Reef). Something in me clicked around this time and I changed my whole outlook on the world. I now work to expose and battle the issues facing sharks in my country and world wide. I turned from diver to activist and delinquent at a young age in the light of the severity of the changes happening in the ocean.

First of all, I want to thank you for choosing me to be published in the BIKINI MAGAZINE. I am beyond thrilled! So thank you again.

I began modeling at a younger age, my daughters get a kick out of it! They're always prancing around wanting to "be a model like mommy". For me, modeling is an art... to be an actress. When I look in that camera lense I can be anyone I want to be, I can be excited, happy, sexy, sad etc...

You don't just stand there and look pretty (like some people may presume). To get those perfect shots you must twist and conform your body into near impossible positions, then hold for however long it takes. Like I always say, if you leave a photoshoot and your body isn't aching, you have not done your job properly!

Hi from the Northeast! I a??m very excited to be a part of BIKINI MAGAZINE once again! I ha??ve been modeling for 2 years and am excited to have already been published multiple times in addition to recently being selected as a promotional model for a local Pepsi sponsored Super bowl event. I am a fun loving, sports minded, live life to the fullest kind of girl! I enjoy anything outdoors; athletics, camping, boating, hiking, you name it. I a??m also involved in a lot of volunteer work through my local emergency aid association helping families in need. Odd facts about me include hating pickles and eggs cooked in the shape of squares. In my work I have the privilege of travel and thus far my favorite cities include New Orleans, Chicago and Boston. I am a die-hard New England Patriot fan and was once an invited candidate for their cheerleading squad. Being a New Englander, I also love the Boston Red Sox and am proud to have a brick inscribed with my family'??s name on it as part of Fenway stadium. I thoroughly enjoy modeling and have worked with some incredible photographers! My hope is make bikini and fitness modeling a larger part of my portfolio thereby creating more opportunities for publication and events.

Born and raised in sunny Southern California, I love living the simple life. I love just kicking it at home with a good movie and some pizza. Clothes always optional ;)

I love to be spontaneous with everything I do. When I shoot I love to think outside the box. Doing something different to stand out is always important. I love to reach out to people whenever I can and am always willing to meet new people, fans, and create life lasting bonds. You gotta, you only get one life!

A small town farm girl, I love to model. All thanks to my mom who supported me in my modelling career. She modelled when she was 18 and became a Calgary Sun Sunshine girl. She is my inspiration.

Born in Calgary, Alberta, Canada and raised in a farming town, Pincher Creek, Alberta there wasn't much for me there. I moved to Edmonton when I was 18 and started looking for modelling gigs. In 2013, I competed for a spot in the 2014 Bear Babes Calendar and scored the month of September. From that experience I met some amazing photographers and started to get my name out.

I love modelling because it makes me feel confident and sexy. Knowing I can take amazing photos is an accomplishment in my books. I want to look back on my life and say I did what I wanted to do with no regrets.
