Marine turned Model named Jennifer. I spent six years in the Marine Corps driving tanks. Afterwards I used my GI Bill to obtain my bachelors degree in History. Now, I'm a certified historian who has currently re-enrolled herself into Egyptology classes. In my spare time I enjoy getting crafty with modeling and helping my Veteran community. I just recently became a new squad member on a two gun competition shooting team which I'm really excited and proud about.

I am your all rounder Australian model. A country girl loves being me and having fun while doing it. Modeling to me hasn't been just one lifestyle for me, to me it's another part of me. I've put work in front of it before and I've also moved work around for myself to model. I make it work because I simply love to do it, as my partner says when I'm at a photoshoot I don't change who I am I just stay who I am and how I naturally enjoy it from meeting new people to laughing with every one while shots are getting taken which turn out to be fantastic endings in many of my photos. I head out to a photoshoot excited but also a tad stressed but soon as I'm there it all click it just happens, yes there has been some hard ones being in the right position for the right photographer but once I do again and again i get in a roll and do what needed alongside laughing and enjoying it because that's why I do. I get excited and nervous once I know it's all done and need to wait to see the photos but once I see them I feel great. I feel like the shoot was a success and I see what I can do better or do the same for the next time round.

For me it all started when one day I just wanted to have a couple photos done, and a friend told me to message Sean Sylvester Photography. The different people I have met along the way from my make up to my manager to my photographers we all get along and enjoy working alongside each other, which also makes me come back for more and more because it's something I love to do and explore. The biggest challenge for me along the way would have to be having patience to see the outcome of the photos, but then on the other hand this challenge has helped me by building more confidence in myself. My biggest goal out of doing this would have to be letting all females know no matter the shape or size you are beautiful!

Maddy began her modeling career summer of 2020 as a tribute artist. A look alike to a popular tv character. First published only few months later in the fall of 2020! Lots of modeling since her start not to mention meet and greets as the celebrity look alike and products for sale like trading cards and 8X10 glossy's. All available at the events as well as in her online store. Her studies are leading her in the path of medical training as she increases her foothold in modeling. Currently full time in school and working part time all while continuing to model in so many great shoots. Maddy is represented by Creation Multimedia and these photos submitted by Creation Photography.
Trivia... Maddy was booked for her first event before she ever posed for and created the Role of Tribute Artist.

My name is Taylor Elizabeth. I currently live in Arizona, but I am originally from a small town in Ohio. I am a mother of 3, and my biggest aspiration is to be the best mother I can, and provide the best life and opportunities for them as possible. My children saved my life in so many ways, and I am so thankful for them.

I am very driven, strive to work hard every day, so I can do my best to be a great role model for them. I currently own my own cleaning business, and my hope is to grow it enough to eventually be able to pass down to my children one day.

Aside from working, I spend my time modeling, going on walks, and spending time with my family, who is the most important aspect of my life. I began modeling not long ago with an amazing photographer, and someone I am very proud to now call my friend, Michael Kostopoulos. We originally met through social media, where he invited me to do a shoot for babygirlfashions.

Since meeting him, modeling has become one of my favorite things to do, and really given me something to look forward to. He really has inspired me in so many ways. He has taught me to see the beauty in everything and everyone, including my own, and that is a beautiful thing. I hope one day to make a difference in people's lives the way he has mine.
